

A VETERAN OF THE BLACK HAWK, MEXICAN AND THE CIVIL WARS.

CAPT. W. W. JACKSON.

Sufferings Were Protracted and Severe—Tried Every Known Remedy Without Relief—Serious Stomach Trouble Cured by Three Bottles of Peruna!

Capt. W. W. Jackson, 705 G St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I am eighty-three years old, a veteran of the Black Hawk, Mexican and the Civil Wars. I am by profession a physician, but abandoned the same."

"Some years ago I was seriously affected with catarrh of the stomach. My sufferings were protracted and severe. I tried every known remedy without obtaining relief."

"In desperation I began the use of your Peruna. I began to realize immediate though gradual improvement."

"After the use of three bottles every appearance of my complaint was removed, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as an infallible remedy for that disorder."—W. W. Jackson.

DISLIKES SHIRTS.

A "Child" of Nature and Some of His Idiosyncrasies.

Convinced of the futility of life as it is lived by the average sojourner in this vale of tears and clothes, E. W. Darling, who abhors a shirt, consents to wear a coat and knee breeches when on dress parade, but usually attires himself in nothing but a fig leaf.

Mr. Darling has declared his intentions of returning to the aboriginal existence. The very picture of Adam, Mr. Darling struck town yesterday afternoon without hat, shirt, shoes or stockings, en route for Ceylon, and, fearful of being misunderstood, volunteered an explanation as to his appearance, manner of life and plans for the future. Mr. Darling believes that with proper living there is no limit to existence, and he is out for a prolonged stay on this mundane sphere. The first article of his creed is to go as nearly naked as the law will allow.

Born in Kansas, reared in Ontario, Can., the Darlings emigrated to Portland, Ore. In 1899 E. W. Darling, the son, came south and matriculated at the Leland Stanford, Jr., University. Here an elective course, embracing studies kindred to medical science, was pursued. While studying at Stanford the desire to get nearer to nature's heart grew upon Darling, and in the seclusion of his own home he practiced simplicity in dress, often taking to the woods, where, unobserved, he may be studied in the nude.

Leaving Stanford last May, Darling determined upon devoting his life to teaching and living his belief. Consequently, without scrip or purse, hatless, shoeless and as scantily clad as decency would permit, Darling started out in a search of a congenial environment. One of the tenets of his belief is that the only healthful diet is of fruit and nuts. So his desire has been to be occupied where the fruit was of the best. During the summer he has worked in the drying establishments of the foothill region, near Los Angeles, but his ideal has not been reached. On Tuesday this child of nature will start for Ceylon, where he hopes to find conditions to his liking. All he wants is solitude, plenty of fruit, floods of sunshine and the privilege of dressing as do the Indians, the only garment being the clout.

As for marriage, Darling has forever forsworn the opposite sex, and will endeavor to surround himself with a company of congenial spirits who take the same view of life as he does. Darling thinks there are too many people in existence now, and could his ideas be carried out people would live forever; hence no occasion for marriage.

Darling is the picture of health, evidently enjoys his manner of life, and his face lights up with joyful anticipation as he describes the future awaiting those following in his (bare) footsteps.—Los Angeles Times.

Why?

Why, when buying a book, are we influenced by the author's name? Why by an artist's if we purchase a picture? Why do wise buyers insist upon having a reliable name on nearly everything they purchase?

It is because the name attached is the safeguard of the buyer—a protection against the palming off of inferior articles. This "name guarantee" we all look for in the most important things we buy, and what can be more important than our food?

Everybody knows that all intelligent housekeepers are very particular about the buying of things to eat and drink, and nobody realizes it more than the up-to-date grocer, who caters to the wants of his customers.

For instance, every real grocer knows the reason for the universal popularity of LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees. He knows that its uniform purity and high quality have made it welcome in millions of American homes for over a quarter of a century.

Realizing this he cannot but hand it out cheerfully when asked for it. He knows that the people accept the package as a guarantee of the contents.

Yet there may be a few grocers left who do not recognize that the buyer—not the seller—has the right of choice, and they may want to sell their loose coffee (who knows what it is, or where it came from) instead of LION COFFEE, which the customer asks for, and the merits of which both know.

In such cases the wisest advice is: "Change your dealer."

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, U.S.A. She writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and that all gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Facts Are Stubborn Things
